To: bob.moore@countryfinancial.com, Alan Podvin <alan@acpstormrepair.com>

To whom it may concern:

Please find attached contract signed and agreed by our mutual client, showing the incurred cost to complete the items your company estimated.

A xactimate is also included showing the manufacturer and code required steps required to complete properly the items shown on your estimate.

At this time "ACP Storm knows" payment is due in the full amount, the incurred contract price and is to be made in the name off the insured our mutual client and ACP Storm Repair.

Please forward our paperwork to the proper management to obtain a full payment for the exact amount billed with the comment " this is a contractor who knows the claims process and this will cost us triple or more if not paid promptly" Save us the script and games used by low rate insurance companies because it will cost substantially more in the end.

Again we appreciate the process but ACP has our own as well. Our billings and our spreadsheet are thorough and ACP Storm has a collections team, a forensics team, and if needed a legal team at the ready to collect this claim.

Please do not mistake our aggressiveness, ACP is here to work with you and will gladly explain the differences in our estimates and help adjusters in any way we can to obtain a timely full payment, and to understand why our billing methods and repair methods are correct and owed in full as billed.

Thank You Very Much,Alan C Podvin Jr
